GIS 4278: Pro-Seminar in Sustainability

Interdisciplinary seminar course explores historical, philosophical, environmental, scientific, economic, and political dimensions of sustainability. Using scientific theory, GIS data, documentary films, historical documents, guest speakers, and other diverse source. Students will examine case studies of local, national and international sustainability initiatives.

Credits: 3
Program: Global Interdisciplinary Studies