

Humanities Minor

Chair: Michael Tomko, Ph.D.
Office Location: 304 Saint Augustine Center
Telephone: 610-519-6165
[\[Website\]](#)

About

The Department of Humanities offers a coordinated series of seminars and courses designed to inquire into the human condition from an interdisciplinary perspective. Drawing on wisdom ancient and new, the curriculum encourages critical thinking about what is needed for human flourishing. Humanities faculty are specialists in complementary disciplines, including theology, philosophy, literature, political science, history, economics, and architectural history. Humanities courses fulfill certain requirements for the Core Curriculum of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Program: Humanities

Type: Minor

MINOR (15 credits)

Students take two of the four Gateway courses, plus 3 electives, 2 of which must be taken in the Department of Humanities.

Program Notes:

- Two of the required electives must have the HUM subject code

Required Minor Courses:

Item #	Title	Credits:
	Humanities Gateway Courses	6
	Humanities Elective for Minor	9

Category Descriptions

Humanities Gateway Courses

Credits: 6

Choose two of the following:

Item #	Title	Credits:
HUM 2001	THL:God	3
HUM 2002	Human Person	3
HUM 2003	PHI:World	3
HUM 2004	PSC:Society	3

Humanities Elective for Minor

Credits: 9

Select 3 Classes in HUM 1975:6950 or any course of three or more credits with the HUM attribute.